Invited to light the lobby and atrium of this award-winning office development on the banks of the River Thames, our brief was to produce a simple, elegant solution. We were tasked with eliminating “stadium-like” high-level fixtures and avoiding clutter on the ground plane. Energy was to be minimised and all fittings easy to access and maintain.

Foster + Partners saw the space as a part of the public realm, forming a seamless transition between the world outside and the internal office spaces within. To aid this transition - and meet the other conditions of the brief - we took the unusual decision to centre the lighting design on specially designed pendants.

Along with a unique identity, and a sense of human scale, the pendants provide a soft glow to the roof when darkness falls, and cast light down allowing the eye to adapt as you move deeper into the building.
