

Andres studied Architecture at Washington University in St. Louis, Missouri, followed by a dual-degree Master's programme in both Architecture and Lighting Design at Parsons The New School for Design in New York.

Andres developed an interest in light through his architecture studies, where he was taught to consider all aspects of the built environment as opportunities for design in order to create unique and interesting phenomena.

Andres started at Speirs + Major in 2013 and was promoted to Senior Designer in 2018. He has worked on a number of projects including the Beverley Center in Los Angeles, Geneva Airport, and a resort in Sardinia. He is currently leading the lighting for a residential development in Tottenham Hale and the London headquarters for a prestigious financial institution.

Andres is a member of the Illuminating Engineering Society, New York City Section. He is fluent in Spanish and enjoys cycling and travelling.
