

Ewan studied Architectural Design at Edinburgh University, followed by an Architectural Design & Urban Studies degree at Glasgow University.

He worked in professional theatre for over 10 years, including shows at the Edinburgh Fringe and the Assembly Theatre, Edinburgh.

Ewan first worked at Speirs + Major during 2008-2009. After re-joining the company in October 2011 as an Assistant Designer, Ewan has worked his way to being named Senior Designer in 2016. He has worked on several key projects including the Magic Garden at Hampton Court Palace, the Harley Gallery at Welbeck Abbey and Maggie's Centre in Newcastle, UK.

Ewan is particularly interested in the use of light to manipulate an individual's experience of space, and hopes to continue to combine his ongoing interests in lighting and the built environment.
