

Karina studied Communication and Media Management at the University of South Australia.

After graduating she worked for a design firm in Adelaide where she was the sole administrator. In 2009 she decided to make the big jump across the pond and came to live in the UK, joining Speirs + Major as Assistant Administrator / PA. She has since risen through the administrative ranks and was recently made Practice Manager.

Karina tries to make the most of London culture by going to the theatre, concerts and sporting events. She loves travelling with her camera at the ready and curling up with a good book.
